

Nadas immigration to USA

Xander Nádas

Who I interviewed

- Julius Nadas or Gyula Nadas II
  - My grandfather

Where my ancestors came from

- My ancestors came from Hungary where they speak Hungarian

- I have some distant cousins that still live in Hungary

Why my ancestors left from Hungary

- My ancestors left Hungary because of World War II
- They were escaping communism

Hungarian flag

Who came to the USA

- My Grandfather
- His mother (my great-grandmother) - Szöllösy, Ibolya
- His father (my great-grandfather) – Nádas, Gyula
- His uncle (great-great grand uncle)– Nádas, János
- His Aunt (great-great aunt)- Nádas, Rózsa
- His brother(great uncle) - Nádas, János Béla
- His sister (great aunt)– Nádas, Julianna Rózsa
- His grandmother (g-g grandmother) - Bóka-Papp, Rózsa

How my ancestors got to the USA

- They got to the USA by going on the USS Harry Taylor

Other languages spoken by my ancestors

- The other languages spoken by my ancestors are Hungarian
- My Grandfather had to learn German as well when living in Austria, and then English when he came to America. He then learned Latin, Greek, and French and then learned Spanish in the last 15 years

Celebrations/Traditions

- One celebration they brought from Hungary is Mikulás est – or St. Nicholas day which is on Dec. 6th
- Mikulás puts gifts in your shoes

- One tradition that they brought over was Hungarian food like Gulyás
  - My Grandfather says my Mom makes the best Gulyás

Pictures of my ancestors

My great grandfather

My Great Grandfather as a boy in Hungary with my great-great-grandparents

Interesting information

- My grandfather was very poor when they came to this country and had very little to eat
- Because of this, my grandfather learned to eat everything he was given
- He can eat a whole chicken – even part of the bones!
- My Great-Grandfather started an import business buying things from Hungary and selling them in the US

Words of wisdom...

My grandfather says:
"Google everything..."

